Bullying Prevention Training

Required of all district and charter public school employees under 14 Del Code §4123A
Title 14 Delaware Code § 4123A
School Bullying Prevention Training

(a) Each school district and charter school shall ensure that its public school employees receive combined training each year totaling one (1) hour in the identification and reporting of criminal youth gang activity pursuant to § 617, Title 11 of the Delaware Code and bullying prevention pursuant to § 4112D, Title 14 of the Delaware Code. The training materials shall be prepared by the Department of Justice and the Department of Education in collaboration with law enforcement agencies, the Delaware State Education Association, the Delaware School Boards Association and the Delaware Association of School Administrators.
“Bullying" means any intentional written, electronic, verbal or physical act or actions against another student, school volunteer or school employee that a reasonable person under the circumstances should know will have the effect of:
• (1) Placing a student, school volunteer or school employee in reasonable fear of substantial harm to his or her emotional or physical well-being or substantial damage to his or her property; or

• (2) Creating a hostile, threatening, humiliating or abusive educational environment due to the pervasiveness or persistence of actions or due to a power differential between the bully and the target; or

• (3) Interfering with a student having a safe school environment that is necessary to facilitate educational performance, opportunities or benefits; or

• (4) Perpetuating bullying by inciting, soliciting or coercing an individual or group to demean, dehumanize, embarrass or cause emotional, psychological or physical harm to another student, school volunteer or school employee.
3 CORE Characteristics of Bullying

AGGRESSIVE, intentional behavior involving unwanted, negative actions.

Involves an IMBALANCE of POWER or strength.

A pattern of behavior REPEATED over time.

(Delaware Law states that bullying can be a one-time incident so don’t wait for the behavior to be repeated before reporting as bullying if you believe it meets any of the state defined criteria.)

A CONFLICT IS NOT BULLYING

- Two parties at odds with each other and there is no real or perceived power differential between them
- Conflict starts and ends on the same level
- Both parties feel uncomfortable emotions such as frustration, anger, and/or outrage

Teasing vs Taunting

- Teasing is a fun thing you do with friends - with people you care about. In teasing:
  - Both participants give and take equally.
  - The teaser and person teased can swap roles with ease.
  - The intention is not to hurt the other person.
  - The basic dignity of everyone involved is maintained.
  - Participants poke fun in a light hearted, clever and harmless way.
  - Participants do it to get both parties to laugh.
  - It is only a small part of the activities shared by kids who have something in common.
  - The motive is innocent.
  - The behavior is stopped when the person teased becomes upset or objects to the teasing.

Teasing vs Taunting

• Taunting is a choice to bully someone for whom you have contempt. There is no intent of playfulness, even if the bully says, I was just teasing, or joking. Taunting is intended to isolate the target, to hurt, and words used are demeaning and cruel. The bully may laugh, and so may the bystander(s). The target is embarrassed, humiliated, or shamed, living in fear of what may come next.

• Is based on an imbalance of power and is one-sided; the bully taunts (ridicules, uses sarcasm, etc.).

• Is intended to harm and involves humiliating, cruel, demeaning, or bigoted language thinly disguised as jokes.

• Includes laughter directed at the target, not with the target.

• Is meant to diminish the sense of self-worth of target.

• Induces fear of further taunting or can be a prelude to physical bullying.

• Is sinister in motive.

• Continues especially when target becomes distressed or objects to the taunts.

Why Children Bully?

- 3 interrelated reasons
  1. Need for power and (negative) dominance
  2. Find satisfaction in causing injury and suffering to others
  3. Are often rewarded in some way for their behavior with material or psychological rewards

Signs a Child is Bullying Others

Kids may be bullying others if they:

• Get into physical or verbal fights
• Have friends who bully others
• Are increasingly aggressive
• Get sent to the principal’s office or to detention frequently
• Have unexplained extra money or new belongings
• Blame others for their problems
• Don’t accept responsibility for their actions
• Are competitive and worry about their reputation or popularity
Types of Bullying

- VERBAL
- SOCIAL
- PHYSICAL
- CYBER or Electronic
Warning Signs Of A Child Being Bullied

- Anxiety or low self-esteem

Look for changes in the child. However, be aware that not all children who are bullied exhibit warning signs.
More Warning Signs

- Excuses to avoid school
- Diminished social contact
- Pattern of withdrawal, shame, fearfulness
Warning Signs

• Damaged or missing belongings
Warning Signs Of Bullying

• Persistent, vague, unexplained physical complaints
• Unexplained bruising or injuries
Additional Warning Signs

- Frequent headaches or stomach aches, feeling sick or faking illness
- Changes in eating habits, like suddenly skipping meals or binge eating. Kids may come home from school hungry because they did not eat lunch.
- Difficulty sleeping or frequent nightmares
- Declining grades, loss of interest in schoolwork
- Self-destructive behaviors such as running away from home, harming themselves, or talking about suicide
Bullying and Suicide

- Take every threat seriously
- Immediately inform the child’s counselor regarding your concern or the child’s threat to harm him/herself
- Ensure that the parent/guardian is notified about your concern

Subsection e.

• A requirement that any school employee that has reliable information that would lead a reasonable person to suspect that a person is a target of bullying shall immediately report it to the administration.
Twenty-one percent of students said that they had experienced bullying that consisted of being made fun of or taunted.

This indicator repeats information from the 2009 Indicators of School Crime and Safety report. For more information: Tables 11.1, 11.2, and 11.3 and DeVoe and Kaffenberger (2005), (http://nces.ed.gov/pubs2005/2005310.pdf)
18 percent reported being the subject of rumors
11 percent said that they were pushed, shoved, tripped, or spit on
6 percent said they were threatened with harm
5 percent said they were excluded from activities on purpose
Nationwide over 160,000 students per day do not go to school for fear of bullying….

That is more than all the students enrolled in Delaware public schools.
Anyone can be a victim of bullying….

Delaware law requires that schools have a procedure in place to investigate bullying and to determine the reason “why” the bullying is occurring. Reasons may include race, age, marital status (such as having gay/lesbian parents), creed, religion, color, sex, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or national origin. Or, it may be because of a person’s physical appearance or some other unknown reason.

Even Teachers Are Bullied

Students are not the only victims of intimidation or violence in schools. Teachers are also subject to threats and physical attacks. Unfortunately, these behaviors are sometimes exhibited from their own students.

5% are verbally abused on a daily basis.
Unfortunately, sometimes adults can be the bullies….

Every Child, Teacher and Staff Member Should Love the School Experience

Support and Supervision are the keys
The five most common areas where bullying occurs in schools include....
School Buses
Playgrounds
Hallways
Locker Rooms
Other areas to look out for

Supervision is key
What Will Help Prevent Bullying?

• Creating a positive School Climate
• Supervision
• Encourage students not to be passive bystanders, but to be active and report bullying behavior to an adult
• Strong teacher-student relationships
• Positive expectations of students
• Atmosphere of cooperation in the classroom
• Firm limits for unacceptable behavior
• Reporting the behavior
“Kids will be kids”, but behaviors that demean, dehumanize, or instill fear in an individual must be addressed by the school.

Courts found that where the school district has knowledge that attempts to stop the bullying are ineffective, it is required to take additional action to eliminate the bullying. Its failure to do so is a form of discrimination.

(Jones v. Indiana Area School District 2005)
Courts held that the rights to be free from bullying based on sexual orientation is clearly established. School officials do not enjoy immunity for liability when they fail to respond to a pattern of bullying. (Flores v. Morgan Hill Unified School District 2003)
Courts ruled that when schools have actual knowledge of the bullying they have a duty to take appropriate action and are not allowed to continue to use methods that fail to address what they know is happening.

Other Legal Requirements

- Schools identify an appropriate range of consequences
- A procedure in place for students and guardians to provide information on bullying activity
- That the guardian of both the bully and the target be notified by the school
- That the school forbid retaliation following a report of bullying
- That the school bullying prevention program be implemented throughout the school year
- That a procedure be in place for communication with medical professionals treating students for bullying issues
How you can help your school prevent bullying?
Forming a team approach to prevention and intervention (Support & Supervision)

About 50 percent of all behavior problems in schools are associated with three to five percent of students.

Team-based approaches aim to target these students. There are two types of team-based approaches that are effective in dealing with at-risk and behavior problem children (bullying)—the Behavior Support Teams and the Student Intervention Teams.

Many schools use these two approaches, but may refer to them by another name.
Support and Supervision

The Behavior Support Team (also known as PBS) designs a comprehensive approach whose focus is primarily on prevention.
It takes a Team

Team-based approaches and working together are effective in dealing with behavior problem children and bullying

However..
The Individual Teacher is the key person in the intervention against bullying and antisocial behavior.

All school staff are instrumental in preventing bullying in the overall school environment.
